

Drop the code requirement and require current general class and extra class to learn new digital modes.